Phylmar Regulatory Roundtable - Environment and Sustainability ForumConsulting Firms Partner to Offer Services to Environment and Sustainability Professionals*

Los Angeles, CA (September 30, 2009) - The Phylmar Group, Inc., an organization that partners with best-in-class companies to address their most challenging environmental, health and safety, and social responsibility issues, announced today that it has launched the Phylmar Regulatory Roundtable-Environment and Sustainability Forum (PRR-ES Forum) in partnership with consulting firm Beyond Compliance, LLC.

The new PRR-ES Forum provides information, updates, seminars and networking opportunities to environmental and sustainability industry professionals worldwide. PRR-ES Forum members will learn key strategies to help make their organization more competitive.

"This is a group of companies committed to developing sustainable practices," said Mark Katchen, Managing Principal of The Phylmar Group. "We recognized our clients' needs in coping with pressing environmental and sustainability issues, and our goal is to provide them with knowledge resources, share information on best practices, and benchmark with other companies."

Modeled after Phylmar's successful PRR-Occupational Safety and Health Forum, the PRR-ES Forum helps its members cost-effectively manage their environmental and sustainability responsibilities. The Phylmar Group hosts the forums through the Phylmar Regulatory Roundtable, whose members include many Fortune 100 companies. The PRR-ES forum's services include:

- Monitoring and analysis of environmental regulatory agency activities
- Networking and informal benchmarking activities
- Twice-yearly peer seminars to discuss best practices in environment and sustainability
- At least three peer conference calls per year to discuss ES initiatives and "hot issues"
- Legislative, regulatory, and judicial updates
- Regulatory advocacy – offered as a separate service

Gary Lucks, a Principal Attorney and Scientist with Beyond Compliance, LLC with over 25 years of environmental regulatory compliance and sustainability experience, will direct the PRR-ES Forum.
